Can't decide between the series starting with "A New Lea" (The Edenites series) or "The Flower Children" (the Children series). I love the Edenites series but I would like to get some books in the children series. Posted by: Molly | Nov 14, 2006 1:00:28 PM Are you kidding me? There are still people out there that think a 5-year-old kid would be up for sex? That's nothing but a reality show gone wrong! Kids are (thankfully) way too immature for that. Remember, no one can ever live up to their potential. Kids have much more potential than adults. That's why we say adults are usually the biggest suckers! I'd recommend you look up the name Billy Bob Thornton. He wrote a book about a kid who wanted to be a girl so he could have sex. When the girl he wanted to have sex with got pregnant, he wanted her to get an abortion. He got so upset about it, that he decided he wanted to be a girl instead. He then wore a skirt, got a tattoo, and tried to learn about sex. But most of all, he found out that adults are the biggest suckers because they're too busy working, playing video games, partying, fighting, killing, etc. to see how little their potential really is. Dude, I'll tell you how to see if you're really a man: stick your dick in a girl's ass! See if you can get her pregnant. If you can't, if she's a real woman, then you know you're a man, because that is how a man would act. If you can't do that, then you're obviously a woman. And you need to get your life together so you don't get raped. (PS: Don't you hate it when people say "having sex" like that? Like they really think they're having sex?) The term "having sex" can 82157476af
